New York Market Weak-Local Securities Firm BONDS FEATURE

MARKET IS IRREGULAR WAITING Bid and Asked on THE GOVERNMENT CROP ANNOUNCEMENT.

NEW YORK, May 7.—The market showed considerable irregularity at the opening, sold down slightly in the early trading and rallied toward noon. Relatively prices do not change greatly, except that with the exception of a few stocks, like Reading, they are slowly losing ground. The bears are using all the unfavorable market news, including the Jovernment crop report, to depress prices, and the support of the rulls who still hope for a rise holds values steady.

Steel continues to be the weak point in the situation. Traders say the imarket is discounting a reduction of dividend at the close of the present quarter, though not a word of such intention has come from any one in the American Steel Corporation. The idea seems to emanate from watchful financiers, who argue that unless the steel company shows greater earnings in the near future the reduction of dividend is incertainty and the conditions surprounding the stock market.

Announcement was made today that the earnings of the International Harvester Company shows 14.15 per cent
